By joining our programme, you benefit from medical oversight, regular check-ins, and personalized adjustments to ensure safe and effective treatment.

16. Should my GP be aware of my weight loss medication?

Yes, it is highly recommended that your GP is aware of any weight loss medication you are taking. While our online doctors provide safe and effective treatment, your GP has a complete picture of your medical history, ongoing conditions, and other medications you may be taking. Keeping them informed helps ensure that your treatment is monitored holistically and minimizes potential risks.

With your explicit consent, we can send a medical note to your GP, detailing your prescribed medication and treatment plan. This allows your GP to integrate this information into your overall healthcare management and provide any necessary follow-ups or additional support if required.
